

Library News, July 2012

Welcome to the Graff Library's July newsletter! Please click the links below to read the full articles.

News

2011 Journal Citation Reports data released

The 2011 Journal Citation Reports (JCR) is now available, with updated Journal Impact Factors, 5-Year Impact Factor, journal rankings by subject, new titles, and much more.

An insightful addition to the NIH Web site

In June the NIH announced a new section of their web site, focusing on the health, economic, and community impact of NIH-supported research. This entire new NIH Web section is worth thorough review, especially for the examples, data, and reports that are being highlighted.

Library Support for Science Education: Guest Post by Dr. John Rossi

Many thanks to Dr. John Rossi for a lovely guest post on our blog, based on a presentation he gave at the American Library Association conference last month on library support for science education.

Our library video: "Accomplishing More as We Work Together: Collaborating with the Library"

We now have a video promoting our library, featuring some wonderful COH folks talking about what collaborating with the library has done for them.

IOM's recent discussion paper: "Ten Attributes of Health Literate Health Care Organizations"

The Institute of Medicine's Roundtable on Health Literacy has published a discussion paper entitled "Ten Attributes of Health Literate Health Care Organizations" listing ways health care organizations can strengthen their patient centered care by prioritizing health literacy concepts.

Did You Know?

Question of the month: Does City of Hope have a Nucleic Acids Research membership?

Unfortunately, we do not. Please click the link above to learn more about why we don't.

Collection Updates

No more access to NEJM archives

We no longer have access to older issues (1812-1989) of the New England Journal of Medicine, because this access is no longer included with a current online subscription.

Healthy recipes from Natural Standard

Are you trying to eat healthier foods? If so, check out the new recipe database from Natural Standard.

New books

The library just added 25 new Springer Protocols e-books, 4 other e-books, and 6 print books.

From the Archives

Behind the scenes in the archives: photo conservation

Archivist Susan Yates explains what's involved in conserving a photo collage from 1958.

Library Staff Activities

Your library staff have, as always, been busy providing the City of Hope community with the information resources and services needed to support your work. In addition to our usual duties, though, the staff attend and present at conferences, write for publication, and attend workshops and other events to learn new skills and keep up with our rapidly-changing profession. Here's what we were up to in June:

- Susan Koscielski and Andrea Lynch attended the American Library Association annual conference in Anaheim.